◀ MY NAME IS LUCA POH KONG

Poh Kong presents the exquisite designs of Luca Carati which combines elegance with the union between geometry and natural landscapes. Leaves, flowers, blades of grass, tree branches, pebbles and clouds are the main sources of inspiration. The designs signify the equilibrium between tradition and the avant garde.

▼ FIT FOR A QUEEN BOUCHERON

Be transported to the famous gardens of Babylon with this Semiramis necklace by Boucheron, inspired by the Queen of Assyria and Babylonia herself who reigned for more than 40 years. The magnificent necklace is an intriguing mix of black opal, mauve sapphire and different shades of emerald.

▼ OPPOSITES ATTRACT CARTIER

With astonishing rings, pendants and earrings, the Black and White collection creates a design swirl of elegant black and elevating white. The self-reflexive jewellery exudes a never-ending spiral of diamonds which characterise these fascinating jewels with extraordinary depth. The black and white collection is a spectacular anthology whose elliptical volumes diffract the light to attract the eye.

▼ FOR ETERNITY SELBERAN

Selberan unveils the Leora anniversary ring where everlasting love and romance is mirrored in the timelessness of its design. Five Selberan Diamonds sit together perfectly on a white gold band exuding an endless sense of brilliant sophistication. The Selberan Diamonds on each band has a total of approximately 1.60 carats and sparkles at every catch of light.

▲ FOR ETERNITY DEGEM

Classic, beautiful and etched in simplicity, the Infinity range is made by DeGem with eternity in mind. Personalised laser inscriptions are made available in the Infinity range for couples looking for exclusivity. The 2009 Infinity Ring series certainly lives up to its predecessors. DeGem skillfully combines the warmth of rose gold and gleams of white gold, coupled with the pure light of diamonds, to gracefully give a contrasting two-tone effect to this year's Infinity Ring series.
